

Who Will Fill These Shoes?
by David Lillard

Candidate	Do you approve of the overall direction of draft zoning ordinance?	Should the zoning ordinance be subject to referendum?	Stance on Table Gaming in Jefferson County
Kit McGinnis	Likes the goals, not the result. "The first draft went into too much detail." It should have been re-worked by a small group before it went to the public. "Capitalism works best when the market is stable. Good zoning creates a stable market, in which decisions are clear and fair."	Not opposed to it, but, "I hope that if the planning commission has time to incorporate public comments, the document will be more acceptable."	Was undecided until voting day; voted no. "It was a very tough decision. I love horse racing. My kids love it too. We deserve a bigger piece of the pie."
